

Exhibit at the 2011 SEM Conference

It's time to place your exhibit reservation for the 2011 SEM Annual Conference and Exposition on Experimental and Applied Mechanics

With the timely new theme, Experimental Mechanics in the Age of Modeling and Simulation, and an exciting technical program, we are looking forward to a very successful event!

Exhibiting at the SEM Annual Conference and Exposition will allow your firm to promote your products and services, generate sales leads, network with current customers and recruit new ones. Please keep in mind that technical exhibitions bring the greatest return on your marketing dollar.

Along with the 8' x 10' exhibit space, included in the exhibit cost of just $1025, you will receive one complimentary conference registration along with access to the conference Proceedings. You will receive the complete post-conference list of attendees along with a FREE 1/4 page size ad in the Final Program. In addition, your firm's product or service listing will be published in the SEM Annual Advance Program, and on the SEM web site, <http://sem.org>.
